Taking Time Out To Care

The Diverse Keystone Club took time to visit the Second Chance Animal Shelter located in Killeen to lend a hand walking and playing with the animals. The animals came to this facility through adverse situations and many of them wait to be adopted by people who want a pet or friend to call their own. The teens decided to start off their first community service project for the year by giving some love and affection to those who have always been loving and affectionate to all mankind. The Shelter's staff members showered the teens with praise for giving their time and their unselfish heart of love to a few of the many animals at the shelter. A hearty salute to the young people for being more than average; they're making a difference in their club and their community.

BABY THINK IT OVER !!!!

The Realityworks "Baby Think It Over®" program is a realistic, hands-on experience that has become a proven method for teaching young people the responsibilities of real life. As an advocate of youth, we are well aware of the problems associated with teen pregnancy and child abuse, and the importance of learning good infant care skills. By providing the most realistic experience possible short of actual infant care, participants not only gain valuable parenting skills, they also learn the true impact of early parenthood on their social lives, academic lives and future goals. The Clements Boys & Girls Clubs will be running the comprehensive parenting program that helps to form realistic attitudes about teenage parenting. Several members at the Trimmier Unit will be getting hands on training during spring break through this program. If you have any questions about the program, please feel free to contact Leslie Carrasco at 634-0308 Extension 106.

Stonehaven Starts Torch Club

Stonehaven Unit's 1st Torch Club is very excited to get off the ground and start their service projects. The "Soaring Eagles" club currently consists of five office holders and four members. They have been meeting once a week, and their Club Advisor Miss Sharon (GISD Teacher) has been running some team-building exercises to promote teamwork and help access each member's leadership qualities. She and Mr. Gerald will be assisting Torch Club Members in the completion of four service projects. In late March they will be implementing "Torch against Trash!" This project will help with the ongoing beautification of The Stonehaven Housing Authority and also raise awareness about the importance of recycling. They will be assisting staff in the implementation of our "Triple Play Fridays" each month as well as designing a "Club Buddy" Program to link Torch members with younger club kids. Their final project will be organizing the National Day Out for Kids to be held in September at the club facility.
